Smoke Fans

Our smoke range has been used across thousands of applications worldwide. From axial fans for smoke extraction to impulse and induction for car parks, we build for general ventilation and emergency situations.

Air Handling & MVHR (Mechanical Ventilation with Heat Recovery) Units

From low void ceiling units, and heat pump heat recovery, to two-deck fully bespoke air handling units, we are confident that our experts can meet your heat recovery and air handling needs.

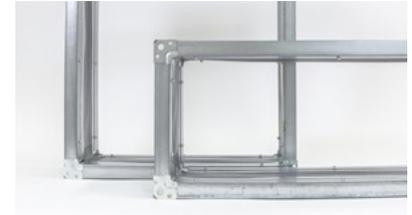

Prefabricated Solutions

Our Prefabricated Solutions service helps cut installation costs and accelerate building projects, while ensuring greater efficiency, compliance, and enhanced site safety. One order, one frame, one delivery. Enhancing Efficiency and Productivity.

Noise Control

All our noise control products are crafted in-house at our manufacturing facility in Colchester, UK. Our team comprises of fully qualified and MIOA registered acoustic engineers, enabling us to deliver industry-leading engineering solutions.

Accessories & Controls

Everything you need to complete your ventilation solution. From fittings to mounts and ducting to sensors, all designed to enhance performance and efficiency.

COMMERCIAL

Our range of commercial ventilation can provide the required number of air exchanges, remove solar, electrical and occupancy heat gain, and prevent the build up of CO₂, odours, dust, bacteria, solvents and fumes.

INDUSTRIAL & OEM

We provide units made with specific corrosion resistant materials and finishes to exacting specifications that are tolerant of toxic and unstable compounds ideal for this complex market.

AGRICULTURAL

We supply the agriculture and food processing industry with a range of axial flow and mixed flow fan configurations. Our products are engineered to meet market demands for production, storage, drying and transportation.

RESIDENTIAL

Elta Trade specialises in residential ventilation that is available to electricians, plumbers, homeowners, and more through electrical wholesalers. Our fans and ventilation products are developed and manufactured in our own manufacturing facilities located across the UK & beyond.
